

Engineering education in Sweden

On 27-28 November 2019, the 7th conference on Engineering education in Sweden was held at Luleå University of Technology (see exhibition 1). Several topics were addressed, and one focused on how education programs should meet the challenges related to sustainable development and digitalization. PDA was represented and Prof Anders Warell one of the speakers. The title of the paper he presented (written together with colleagues) was 'Exploring Product Form Teaching within Engineering Design Education'.

Future direction of product development research and education

The report from the workshop on Industry Trends to 2040 – Future Research and Education in Product Development that was held at Chalmers last year is in the final stage. It will outline insights regarding trends in society, business and technology that affects product development research and education. It will also include ideas for actions needed to meet these trends. A teaser version was presented at the ICED19 conference in Delft.

PhD activities

The course Production Innovation P01 (7,5hp) is currently running and will end in late March 2020.

The PhD course, P13 EPD: Sustainability in Engineering Product Development (5 hec), will run during winter/autumn 2020 including three meetings:

February 6-7, 12:00-12:00 (KTH, Stockholm)

March 5-6, 12:00-12:00 (MDH, Eskilstuna)

April 23-24, 12:00-12:00 (BTH, Karlskrona).

Course syllabus is available at: <http://www.p2030graduateschool.se/store/p/all-courses-250645/p13-epd-sustainability-in-engineering-product-development-5hp-718726> and registration is due December 20, 2019 via the same web page.

The PhD course, P61 Engineering Product Development (EDP): Modeling Simulation and Optimization in the Engineering Product Development Process (5 hec) will run March to May, 2020:

March 3, 15.00 (web)

March 23-24 Chalmers

followed by session at BTH and finally Linköping in late May.

Contacts: Ola Isaksson, ola.isaksson@chalmers.se; Tobias Larsson tobias.larsson@bth.se; Johan Ölvander johan.olvander@liu.se.

The course P09 EPD: Engineering Management (5 hec) will start 24 August, 2020. More info about the above-mentioned courses and other courses can be found within Graduate School Produktion2030 <https://produktion2030.se/courses/> and at Kunskapsförmedlingen <https://kunskapsformedlingen.se/kurse>

Conferences

The 2019 International Conference of Engineering Design, ICED19, conference was held on 5-8 Aug at TU Delft. The main theme was 'Responsible design for our future'. Several PDA members participated and presented research results.

It is a pleasure to announce that the next conference, ICED21, will be held in Göteborg, Sweden during August 2021. The conference is hosted by Chalmers with Professor Ola Isaksson as chair of the Organizing Committee. The conference is supported by PDA. For further info please go to: <https://www.chalmers.se/en/areas-of-advance/production/news/Pages/ICED-conference-to-Chalmers.aspx>

The Swedish Production Symposium (SPS2020) will also be organized together with the PDA. The theme is 'Knowledge-Intensive Product Realisation in Co-operation for Future Sustainable Competitiveness' and is scheduled to 21-24 April, 2020 at Jönköping University. For more information, visit www.sps2020.se.

The 16th International Conference on Design (Design 2020) is scheduled to 18-21 May, 2020 in Cavtat-Dubrovnik, Croatia.

NordDesign 2020 will be held at DTU, Copenhagen, Denmark during 11-14 August, 2020.
