Graduate Course “Get your paper published”

This very popular hands-on academic publication course guides participants through the journal writing and publication process with their own contribution. Back for the seventh time in 2022! Course within Produktion2030, in collaboration with ScAIEM.

Target group

Junior academic researchers (PhD students) with the ambition to publish in major academic journals, to support doctoral studies in the production, innovation and/or industrial engineering and management areas, and

Senior researchers with publishing experience and who intend to get their articles published in higher ranked academic journals in these areas.

Context

The course is part of the program Produktion2030, and is offered within ScAIEM the Scandinavian Academy of Industrial Engineering and Management.

Content

The course will have three meetings of 2 days each, and builds on participants' own reading/writing assignments in-between the meetings. The participants develop and write an academic paper during the course. Due to the ongoing uncertainties related to the covid-19 virus, the course will either entail face to face meetings (if possible), virtual meetings, or a mix of both.
